ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT SUCCESS STORY

Kinder Morgan Michigan

Kinder Morgan Michigan Power Plant opened their doors in July 2002 on the Former Goodyear Tire & Rubber facility in the City of Jackson. This is an aerial view of their state-of-the-art facility.

This facility is a $250 million state-of-the-art, natural gas-fired, 510 megawatt electric power generation facility. The plant is designed to operate at full capacity during times of peak demand to meet the growing energy shortfall in Michigan.

The Brownfield Redevelopment Authority of Jackson County as well as the City's Brownfield Redevelopment Authority assisted Kinder Morgan with receiving Single Business Tax credits with the State of Michigan.
